Kaveh L. Afrasiabi,) Defendant.)

DEFENDANT'S LETTER TO THE COURT REGARDING HIS EXCULPATORY ARTICLES

Defendant Kaveh Afrasiabi, pro se, respectfully brings to the court's attention approximately 250 of his articles that reflect the Defendant's integrity and high standard as a Middle East expert, contrary to the false allegations of the US government dismissing his writings as pure propaganda. This list does not include the Defendant's books and is presented as exculpatory evidence. These articles have appeared in New York Times, Boston Globe, Washington Post, SF Chronicle, UN Chronicle, Council on Foreign Relations, Washington Times, Guardian, Harvard Theological Review, Harvard International Review, Columbia Journal of International Affairs, Brown's Journal of International Affairs, Middle East Journal, Global Dialogue, Asia Times, etc. Many are reprinted in Iran Review citing the original source at bottom of each article. In many of these articles, the subject of US-Iran peace and dialogue and negotiations are discussed, showing Afrasiabi's role as an agent of peace.
